Dear Twitpic Community - thank you for all the wonderful photos you have taken over the years. We have now placed Twitpic in an archived state. This is when an impersonator has an almost perfect disguise, only to ruin it with a seemingly inconspicuous mistake. Perhaps the imposter blurted out something out-of-character (or a personal catchphrase), forgot to include a Distinguishing Mark (often an Intimate Mark), or accidentally revealed that they're left-handed. "Batman does not eat nachos!" — Batman to another Batman (who continues to eat the nachos) in a rare double example of this trope, Batman: The Brave and the Bold As any writer will tell you, there are times when drama, art, and normal human behavior are not just at odds, but in a Mexican Standoff
